COMMUNICATION VITAMINS FOR A HEALTHY RELATIONSHIP

All couples (dating, engaged, or married) can do preventative care for their relationship to fight off negative communication viruses that might attack and break down their relational health. This is based on Dr. John Gottman's key indicators that have been used to predict divorce with more than 90% accuracy. The bright side is that Gottman provides a positive antidote for each negative predictor.

In this presentation, you will learn to identify the predictors of divorce and how to replace those negative traits with positive ones that could ultimately save your relationship. This highlights the need for couples to maintain their oneness, for when it comes to marriage 1+1=1.
